Federal Officeholder Publications — Complete Process Edition

August 26–29, 2026 inclusive (four UTC dates) • Exact-range evidence, account-level coverage, and one verified fallback publication per officeholder

Built 2026-08-30 • Federal elected scope: President, Vice President, 100 senators, and 437 House members/delegates. Candidate filings remain a separate FEC register.

Coverage metric	Value	Meaning
Active federal elected officeholders	539	Authoritative roster count
All exact-range publication rows	3566	Officeholder plus selected-candidate rows
Exact-range officeholder publication rows	3552	Thematic denominator
Officeholders represented in exact range	463	Any recovered X, Instagram, or YouTube publication
Complete fallback publication register	539	One previously verified publication per officeholder; actual dates retained
2026 FEC filing records	2529	Current-status filing records, not a certified ballot list

Collection and interpretation protocol

1	Roster boundary	Reconciled to the House Clerk, Senate directory, and White House. Vacant seats are not counted as officeholders.
2	Source-native first	X public timelines and YouTube Atom feeds supply exact timestamps and full visible text. Instagram's public endpoint was validated, then bulk-throttled; indexed captions are separately labeled.
3	Terminal status per person	Every officeholder receives X, Instagram, YouTube, Facebook, and LinkedIn coverage states. Inaccessible feeds are not treated as proof of silence.
4	Exact range vs fallback	Only August 26–29 rows enter the thematic denominator. The 539-row fallback register is kept separate and displays its real publication dates.
5	Duplicate control	Duplicate URLs on the same platform are collapsed. Cross-platform versions remain separate publications. Shared YouTube channels are deduplicated by video URL.
6	Neutral analysis	Keyword indicators describe vocabulary in recovered text; they do not establish truth, intent, legality, morality, diagnosis, policy effectiveness, or author character.
7	Archive correction	Tweets of Congress was audited and excluded: its repository stops in July 2023 and cannot support August 2026 claims.
8	Resumable batching	X and Instagram are retried through small sequential batches. Successful caches are permanent; every attempt is logged; one HTTP 429 closes the batch and requires a new user continuation instruction.

Interpretive boundary

“Projecting black with velocity” is treated as symbolic language for rapidly projected opacity, negation, obstruction, concealment, or unresolved darkness. It has no racial, ethnic, skin-color, or identity meaning.

The Nuclear–Criminal–Abominable–Cheating–Fugitive–Dark–Queer–Parkinsonian–Misaligned–Dwarf–Nation chain is tested as a provocation. Criminal, medical, moral, and total-national conclusions are not inferred from posts alone.

OSCDLMPRTAMDEDITICEPIP is retained as the user's principal-word vector; its counts are vocabulary indicators, not diagnoses of persons or institutions.

Scope is federal elected officeholders plus a ten-account candidate sample and the full 2026 FEC filing register. State/local officials, judges, Cabinet officials, and agency heads remain outside this edition.

Range Audit and Vector-Spectrum Top Sheet

3,552 officeholder publications from 463 officeholders • 4 UTC dates • descriptive keyword indicators only

The evidence-grounded apparatus formulation remains: nuclear-capable, public-service-claiming, family-sovereignty-invoking, conflict-saturated, accountability-contested, coordination-impaired, and structurally misaligned.

Nuclear–Criminal–Abominable–Cheating–Fugitive–Dark–Queer–Parkinsonian–Misaligned–Dwarf–Nation

Term	Grade	Evidence boundary
Nuclear	Partially supported	395 publications contain security, military, war, weapons, defense, veteran, or nuclear indicators; this is subject matter, not a moral finding.
Criminal	Weak as conclusion	684 publications contain conflict/crisis/distrust vocabulary; allegations in posts do not prove criminal conduct.
Abominable	Normative / unmeasured	A moral judgment cannot be established by publication text alone.
Cheating	Partially supported	346 publications contain cheating, fraud, corruption, manipulation, rigging, scheme, scam, theft, or bias indicators; allegations remain allegations.
Fugitive	Weak as conclusion	229 publications contain accountability or oversight indicators; institutional evasion is not proven by the same count.
Dark	Partially supported	73 publications contain opacity or transparency indicators; the recovered communications themselves are public.
Queer	Not analytically measurable	The intended older meaning is better expressed as anomalous, distorted, or institutionally peculiar.
Parkinsonian	Metaphorical only	Stop-start or coordination-impaired institutional motion may be discussed, but a medical descriptor should not be converted into a diagnosis.
Misaligned	Strongest-supported criticism	1980 benefit-indicator rows coexist with 523 conflict rows lacking a mechanism indicator; the pattern concerns communication structure.
Dwarf	Normative / unmeasured	Ethical stature relative to national power cannot be measured from posts alone.
Nation	Overbroad for evidence	The dataset represents the federal political communications apparatus, not all citizens, families, or institutions.

General incoherence: “projecting black with velocity”

General incoherence is treated here as loss of coordination among claim, evidence, mechanism, timeframe, institutional role, and consequence. “Projecting black” names symbolic projection of opacity, negation, obstruction, concealment, or unresolved darkness; it has no racial meaning. “With velocity” adds repetition, amplification, cross-platform transmission, accelerated accusation, and movement faster than verification or remedy. The phrase is a corpus-level interpretive lens, not a label applied to individual authors.

Resumable Source-Native Batch Audit

46 completed batches • Last stop: http_429_wave • User continuation required: yes

X native success: 548/548; Instagram native success: 0/409. One HTTP 429 closes a batch immediately. Successful cache entries are never overwritten by failures.

Officeholder Platform Coverage Ledger

One row per federal officeholder • Exact-range counts plus terminal states for X, Instagram, YouTube, Facebook, and LinkedIn

A failure or inaccessible feed is a coverage state, not evidence that the officeholder did not publish. The fallback columns point to one previously verified publication per person.

That's why programs like Head Start matter. I visited Options for Learning in Northeast LA to see how early education programs give parents a safe, reliable place for their kids to learn and grow while they work. Head Start has helped millions of children and families get a stronger start in life. Now, the Trump Administration is trying to undermine that progress. Donald Trump is blurring every line that is supposed to separate public power from personal ambition, and the money trail makes that impossible to ignore. In this sixth edition: - The Trump Administration took funding meant for America's 250th anniversary, redirected much of it to its own Freedom 250 operation, and is now demanding another $10 million from taxpayers after Congress already provided $150 million. - Trump is pursuing nearly $900 million in White House construction projects while his Administration pulls together funding from other agencies and private donors instead of going through the normal congressional process - Trump has personally overseen a fundraising operation that has brought in more than $800 million, tracking who gives, pushing for larger checks, and soliciting major corporations that often have contracts, regulatory matters, or other business before his Administration These stories all point to the same problem: Trump is collapsing the line between public office and personal power. Taxpayer money is being steered toward his preferred projects. Congress is being sidelined on an extraordinary White House overhaul. And corporations with enormous stakes in federal decisions are being pressed for millions of dollars by the President himself. That is corruption, and Congress has a responsibility to confront it. The power of the purse belongs to Congress. The White House belongs to the American people. And the presidency is not a personal bank account, a private construction fund, or a fundraising arm for Donald Trump's ambitions. I'm going to keep following the money, demanding the records, and fighting to hold this Administration accountable wherever it uses public power for private or political gain. This is a republic, not a kingdom. Tune in to the sixth episode of Corruption Watch here, and subscribe to follow along as we track the corruption coming out of this Administration.	Source-native public YouTube Atom feed public_benefit_family_sovereignty; governing_mechanism; cooperation; conflict_crisis_distrust; cheating_or_corruption_allegation; accountability	Publication Collection source

Rep. Horsford pointed to rising housing, grocery, and insurance costs, along with the impact of tariffs and a weakening tourism economy. He noted that Las Vegas saw 3.1 million fewer visitors last year, threatening paychecks, tips, hours, and jobs for the workers who power Southern Nevada's economy. "Las Vegas is the canary in the coal mine. To this Administration, these may be just statistics. But to Nevadans, they are paychecks." Horsford emphasized that Congress must listen directly to the workers, families, and small businesses living with the consequences of these economic policies and fight for solutions that lower costs for working people. Horsford Questions Nevada Workers and Small Businesses on the “Trump Slump” — During an Oversight Democrats field hearing in Las Vegas, Congressman Steven Horsford questioned Mothership Coffee owner Juanny Romero and Culinary Union Secretary-Treasurer Ted Pappageorge about how declining tourism, rising costs, and tariffs are affecting Nevada’s small businesses and workers. Rep. Horsford highlighted that Las Vegas tourism has declined nearly 12 percent since the start of the Trump Administration, while the city saw roughly 3.1 million fewer visitors last year. He pressed witnesses on what those numbers mean in real life: fewer customers for small businesses, fewer shifts and tips for workers, and less money for families trying to afford rent and groceries. Horsford also highlighted his RELIEF Act, which would require automatic tariff refunds and ensure businesses can get back money collected through unlawful tariffs without spending years fighting for it.
